Quotes & Sayings

- Many people will walk in and out of your life, but only true friends will leave footprints in your heart. Eleanor Roosevelt
- True friends are the ones who never leave your heart, even if they leave your life for awhile. Even after years apart, you pick up with them right where you left off, and even if they die they're never dead in your heart.

Attending church services regularly is like making a path through the forest: the more often you use it, the less obstruction you find in the way."

The Procrastinating Servant

14 years old - "I've just become a Christian, I don't know enough and I'm still too young to be involved in the work of the church."

16 years old "I've just got my driver's license. I have to work to take care of my driving expenses. And of course this is the time in my life when I am very busy with friends, and you wouldn't believe all the school activities I have! I'll get involved a little later."

18 years old - "I just graduated from high school! Now I need a little time for myself before I enter the 'real world.' I'll have more time for the work of the church later."

20 years old - "I never knew college took so much time! When I get out and on my own I'll have time for church work then."

22 years old "Boy, did you have any idea how hard it was to get started in the work place? It takes all my energy to get my career on line. And on top of that I just got married... I have to spend time to mold my new family life, too. In a couple of years I'll be ready to really dig into the work of the church."

24 years old - "Children! I never believed my parents when they told me how much time and money it took to raise them. I sure don't have time for the work of the church now ... but when my kids get older I'll be able to do my share of the work then."

36 years old - "It seems the older he kids get the more they are involved in! Home from work, then to the school functions, then sports ... I'll be glad when the kids get older so I can really be involved in the work of the church."

46 years old - "I've never had so much fun! Grandchildren! I should have had them first (Ha!). I can't deprive them ... when they get older I'll be able to really be involved in the church."

56 years old "I'm on my last push at work now. I've got to really bear down for a few years now so I can be ready for retirement. And of course we have our place at the lake we're fixing up. In a few years I'll be able to quit the 'rat race' and really get involved in the church."

66 years old - "Retirement at last! I've worked hard so many years and now I can enjoy the fruit of my efforts. It's time now for the young ones here at church to carry on and let us 'veterans' rest a little."

Instead of such a person as described above, isn't it great to see people who can use their abilities in God's service NOW? Which are YOU?

The Ballad of Fort McHenry

By David Bragg

On the evening of September 13, 1814 an American diplomat found himself stuck on a British vessel watching a fierce bombardment of Baltimore's Fort McHenry. The state of affairs looked grim. As he spent the night detained by the enemy, Francis Scott Key looked out across the waters towards the American fort. But with the dawn of a new day the American cause found strength. The flag still waved above the fort. That morning, on the back of a letter he happened to find in his pocket, Key began to compose a poem that would be finalized within a week. He called it "The Defense of Fort McHenry."

Over the space of many years the beloved song would grow in popularity as it was sung in patriotic settings and, in 1862, at a major sporting event. The patriotic tune would also be sung to inaugurate the first World Series game in 1903 (www.pbs.org). Many attempts were made to have it adopted as America's official national anthem, but that would not happen until March 3, 1931 when President Herbert Hoover made "The Star-Spangled Banner" America's song.

For Christians of every generation the familiar words penned by Key have special meaning: "the land of the free and the home of the brave." We are citizens of a heavenly kingdom/nation (Phil. 3:20). As such, our freedom is purchased with the precious blood of Jesus (Acts 20:28). Our spiritual liberty demands courage, the willingness to stand up for, and suffer if necessary for, the cause of Christ. It requires courage to live faithfully in the kingdom of the saved.
