Christian Giving

Will a man rob God? There are some who rob God of what belongs to Him in the first place. In Malachi 3:8-9 we can read: "Will a man rob God? Yet you have robbed Me! But you say, 'In what way have we robbed You?' In tithes and offerings. You are cursed with a curse, for you have robbed Me, even this whole nation." Christians need to think about their giving and ask the question: "Am I robbing God?" I have never known anyone that suddenly became impoverished by giving of their means to God. In fact, what usually happens is the individual that does give bountifully will reap bountifully. The one who cares enough about God to give to Him will be blessed.

Why Should A Christian Give?

There are several reasons why a Christian should give. First of all, Christ was a gift to us from our heavenly Father (John 3:16). Secondly, because eternal life is a gift of God (Romans 6:23). Thirdly, because in giving we are blessed (Acts 20:35). A disciple of Christ learns that it is important to give back to God as we have been prospered in our daily life (I Corinthians 16:2). Knowing that we have been prospered we will give freely and cheerfully (II Corinthians 9:7; 8:12). When a Christian fails to give to God it is a sin. When one does not give to God as they have prospered, it puts a burden on others (II Corinthians 8:13). Paul even admitted that he did wrong in not teaching the Corinthians to give as they should (II Corinthians 12:13). May we all strive to give as we have been prospered so we will be blessed.

That's More Than I Am Supposed to Do

Practically all progress in the world has been made by those who did more than their share, "more than they were supposed to do."

Our independence was won by George Washington and his men who "did more than they were supposed to do" as they suffered privation at Valley Forge while others were living in luxury not far away. Many a lad has been set up in business or given a college education by parents who "did more than they were supposed to do" while neighbor boys are left without a start in life by satisfied parents. Many a sick child has been brought back to health by a sacrificing mother who did more than her share.

The church of the Lord has been established in many places in America by sacrificing Christians who did far more than their share - they could have worshipped down the street - but they did more than they were supposed to do (according to the opinion of men) and established the Lord's church.

Most of the work around the church building is done by Christians who "do more than they are supposed to do" while many are perfectly willing that they should do it. (This reminds me of something I heard one time. A preacher was asked if there was anyone at the church where he preached that was willing to work. He said, "Everyone in this church is willing, five percent are willing to work, and the other 95 percent are willing to let them do it." - t.t.). If it were not for those who do more than they are supposed to do by giving themselves, this congregation wouldn't grow but would stagnate and die.

After all, "doing more than we are supposed to do" as men judge is the very crux of Christianity. It means 'going more than halfway,' 'turning the other cheek,' 'loving one's enemies,' 'praying for those who persecute us,' 'giving money to the needy,' and 'working for the Lord while others are engaged in pleasure.' Yes, it means all this and more. But this will bring eternal life for the faithful, all of whom "did more than they were supposed to do."
